KEYES SENTENCE CONFIRMED BY COURT OF APPEALS

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

When you've just passed the 31st milestone and someone sticks a birthday cake in front of you with 54 candles on it, it's about time to do some thinking. Anyway that person should have known better and there must be a hint somewhere.

We warn all hair dye and face lifting salesmen to keep their distance, however. We're not interested.

And we're glad we're not a Chinaman and have to celebrate our new year and birthday all at once.

Sob sisters are still busy using up good printers' ink wallowing about poor misunderstood criminals who are feeling the teeth of the law. Unfortunately, there are some of our citizens who take these paid wallers seriously.

Then there's the sister in Chicago who had her brother arrested to make him discontinue a career of crime. At the present moment the brother is probably rather bitter toward his sister. But the day may come soon when this young man will thank his sister for not sobbing on his shoulder about how he was being misunderstood by the world.

Now we hear from Chicago that it may be necessary to close all the speakeasies in Chicago because of the gang warfare. Well! well! well! And this suggestion comes from a member of the police force. More wells.

Another weighty problem has been decided by a Cincinnati judge. The judge says that fleas or other insects which usually abide with dogs and other pets belong to them and must go with them. The decision followed a suit by a landlady asking damages from a former roomer for the removal of fleas, etc., from a room which the man and his pets formerly occupied. That's that.

We can't have the entire street widened, but we are at least going to have the sharp high shoulder eliminated on portions of San Pablo avenue. Some of our grandchildren may see the completion of that stretch of street. That is, if the entire generation is not killed off by the chuck holes in that section.

Horses. Horses. Horses. They have arrived in the eastbay section. If you know a good horse when you see one, and would like to see a big bunch of them, take a run down to the Oakland horse show some time next week. It will be well worth your while.

England has reverted to flogging to curb a crime epidemic. The United States thinks flogging too cruel. England doesn't seem to hold its criminal element in check pretty well.

YESTERDAY IN CONGRESS

Bill introduced proposing establishment of "commonwealth of Philippine Islands," with complete withdrawal of American sovereignty.

HOUSE—Representative Fort, New Jersey, Republican in a speech suggested clarification of Volstead act to permit home manufacture of light wines and beer.

Expenditures committee decided to reconsider its vote repudiating a bill to restrict prohibition bureau from Treasury to justice department.

Immigration committee continued hearings on bill to restrict immigration from Canada, Mexico and South and Central America. Judiciary committee held hearings on bill to make "Star Spangled Banner," the national anthem.

ATTORNEY TO FIGHT TERM IN PRISON

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—UP—Asa Keyes, who was convicted of having accepted bribes while district attorney of Los Angeles county, must serve from one of 14 years in San Quentin prison, the district court of appeals ruled late today.

Three justices, Works, Thompson and Craig, signed the decision affirming the judgment of the superior court. The conviction of Ed Rosenberg, Spring street financier, who was found guilty of conspiring with Keyes, also was upheld.

Keyes has been in the county jail since his conviction almost a year ago, but the time will not count on his penitentiary term.

Keyes, Rosenberg and Ben Getzoff, a wizened Spring street tailor, were found guilty of having met in Getzoff's shop and, almost openly, plotted to dismiss charges against men accused of wrecking the Julian Petroleum corporation.

Getzoff turned state's evidence and was paroled. He told of acting as go-between for Keyes with men in legal difficulties and of money that was exchanged.

Unless Keyes appeals to the state supreme court, he probably will be taken north to enter the penal institution within the week.

"I'll fight this to a finish," Keyes said when informed of the decision. "I'm not discouraged. I've 15 days in which to appeal for a rehearing and seven days in which to take the matter to the supreme court. I'm going to do it."

All points which Keyes and Rosenberg based their appeals—failure to connect certain parties with the case, a contention that there cannot be a conspiracy between givers and takers to offer a bribe, and misconduct on the part of the district attorney—were denied.

Deputy district attorney Jesse Frampton asked the dismissal because two juries had failed to arrive at a verdict. In the Pantegast trial, Biffie testified that he heard Eunice Pringle speak to her manager, Nick Dunaev, in a manner that indicated they planned to "frame" the showman.

CLAIMS NOT FILED HERE IN SCHOOL DEATH

No claims have been filed with the Richmond high school board in the death of Wave Redman, following burns under a shower in the Roosevelt junior high school some time ago. Neither have any claims been filed with the board for the injury of Alice Shaw in the same accident according to Audrey Wilson, president of the high school board.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Redman, parents of the dead girl and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shaw, parents of the injured girl are contemplating some action but no definite step has been taken, their attorney told the RECORD-HERALD last night.

"We know nothing about a purported conference with District Attorney A. B. Tinning in this matter," the attorney said last night. "Just what action we will take we do not care to discuss at this time," the attorney continued.

District Attorney Tinning stated last night that he did not know of any conference to be held on the matter today and said that he was unfamiliar with the case except for a general idea of what had happened.

"Naturally, I would represent the school board in any action of this nature, but to date I have not been officially informed of any action contemplated," Tinning asserted last night.

Wilson stated last night that he and several other members of the high school board would probably go to Martinez today, if Tinning could be reached, and discuss details of the case with him, in an informal manner.

JAPANESE, FRENCH GIVE FLEET PLANS TO PARLEY

LONDON, Jan. 31.—UP—Japan and France launched the long-awaited puzzle game at the five-power conference today, namely, how to take a fleet, divide it up into different types of ships, and start limiting each type.

The American delegates stood aside and watched with interest. They may say what they think of the game by next Tuesday.

At an hour's private conference of all delegates at St. James' palace the Japanese put forth this suggestion:

Divide fleets into the following classes of warships, limiting the size of vessels and guns in each class:

1. Capital ships.
2. Aircraft carriers.
3. Cruisers with guns over six inches, but not over eight inches.
4. Light cruisers (and destroyers, with guns of six inches and less).
5. Submarines.

Decide how many tons of each class of warships each nation is to have.

WOMAN HELD IN TRALLA DEATH

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—Booked as a material witness in the Nick Tralla murder case, Miss Ella Hibbs, his companion, was today removed from the Highland hospital and lodged in the Alameda county jail.

Explanation of this move was made by deputy sheriffs Jack Collier and J. L. Davis with the cryptic statement that "Miss Hibbs' stories of the murder are a little vague."

They declared the girl was not under arrest, but merely held "so she will be handy to identify any suspects that may be rounded up."

New Evidence

Discovery of important new evidence was also hinted by Collier, which, he said, offers the "most promising leads yet encountered."

Except to add that Miss Hibbs does not object to being held in jail, he refused further explanation.

Miss Hibbs has repeatedly told police that Tralla, operator of a Livermore cafe, was the victim of a giant negro, who, after murdering him, attacked and beat her.

Collier and Davis took Miss Hibbs to the lonely road near Pleasanton where the murder took place, shortly after midnight this morning. Here they retraced the movements of Tralla, Miss Hibbs, and their assailant.

Tomorrow they will visit the "rogues' gallery" in San Francisco in the hope that Miss Hibbs might be able to find a picture of her attacker there.

That happened in the case of Albert L. Hutton and his brother, John W. Hutton, 2000 Roosevelt avenue.

According to the complaining witness he was absent from his dwelling for some time last October.

her. During that time he said his brother occupied the home without his permission.

Seven Homes Built Here In January

Richmond home building took a decided spurt during the month of January and the building inspector's office is looking forward to the greatest home building year in the history of the city.

During the month which closed yesterday seven new homes were erected at a cost of $28,500; 16 other homes were added to or improved in other ways at a cost of $7975. Garages and other outbuildings numbered eight and cost $725. The total for the month was $35,200.

Plans for a new 18 apartment, apartment house are now being checked over in the building inspector's office. This structure is estimated will cost from $60,000 to $75,000.

Other inquiries have been made at the office by builders which indicate that a campaign of home construction is to be under way here within a short time.

Recall Of Eureka Woman Mayor Asked

EUREKA, Jan. 31.—In the midst of her crusade against vice, Mrs. Emily Jones, woman mayor of Eureka was vigorously beset by her political enemies today.

Armed with recall petitions they started a concerted drive to force her out of office.

Of the 1200 signatures required by law, more than 900 have been procured for the recall election, according to sponsors of the petition.

"Let them try to oust me," Mrs. Jones said today. "I'm not afraid of them. I'm determined to 'clean up' Eureka. I am not a reformer—but I am interested in law enforcement and a clean community."

Declaring that continuance of the woman mayor in office will "disturb civic harmony and discredit laws and government of the city," the petitions make charges that she failed to establish public confidence, that she has not intelligently maintained the city's progress, that she has neither the training nor experience needed to develop a city and that she is arbitrary and reckless of legal requirements and therefore threatens the government with constant turmoil and confusion.

Richmond Red Cross Visits Mare Island

One of the most successful and pleasing of the various activities carried on by the Richmond chapter of the Red Cross is the monthly birthday party given for the invalids and convalescent patients at the Mare Island hospital.

A party of 13 local women journeyed to Mare Island yesterday afternoon and acted as hostesses to those whose birthdays came during the month of January and to all those who were able to take part in the festivities. The women brought with them numerous home made cakes and a supply of candy and delicacies and entertained the boys at the recreation hut.

During the course of the party, Mrs. A. P. Hill presided at the piano, leading in community singing. Several tables of cards were played, the women pairing off with the men.

The party to be given by the local women next month will probably be in the nature of an evening's entertainment for which the women will arrange for suitable talent.

The work this year is under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. W. Chapin and if the future events measure up to the one given yesterday Mare Island will be well taken care of in this respect by the Richmond Red Cross.

Under a new plan worked out by the local Red Cross, Mrs. E. L. Scofield is acting as general chairman for all women's activities.

Those assisting Mrs. Chapin and Mrs. Scofield yesterday were Mrs. Roy Eakle, Mrs. M. R. Eurdick, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. A. P. Hill, Mrs. E. D. Gray, Mrs. C. E. Finney, Mrs. H. M. Flint, Mrs. R. T. Osborne, Mrs. A. B. Brooks, Mrs. F. H. Smith and Mrs. Ira Vaughn.

ATASCADERO, Jan. 31.—UP—A condemnation of audiences that attended the stage play "Bad Babies" was voiced in municipal court today by Judge Charles L. Boyer when he imposed a fine and a sentence on those who participated in the production.

Al Jennings, stage manager, nephew of Al Jennings, notorious Oklahoma gambler, asked for probation. Those who were convicted were Johnny Ralston, Elton Norman Peak, Arthur Rankin, Annette Westbay.

All five were released on $300 appeal bond when they took exception to the decision and filed oral notice of appeal.

Cutter Gives Up Rescue Try

VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 31.—UP—The coast guard cutter Northland left here suddenly today for an unannounced destination after failing to relieve the ice bound steamer N. R. Laing. Commander Jones of the Northland gave no hint of his reason for departing from stream. Bert Hayes, fisherman, acting as local pilot for the cutter said Commander Jones had put him off without stating his reason for departing.

It was believed that Commander Jones feared that he might get blockaded in thick ice that holds the Laing. The Northland became stuck for a time after hammering away for more than two hours and advancing only her own length. The crew freed the cutter by turning the hose on ice floes that held the vessel.

Let Us Watch Her Refusing to Try!

"HOW is the wage-earner to follow the fashion?" inquires William Bolitho, writing of the new skirt length in the current Harper's. "The answer is that she cannot. Will not, or cannot, it comes to the same thing." But does it? The women wage-earners whom we know, including ourselves, are in no mood of black despair shot with agonized desire, on this question of following the more-discussed-than-own ultra-feminine styles. Our customary attitude—if this writer may interpret it—is a compound of scorn and resentment for the skirt on which we would trip, hurrying down the subway stairs; for the pinched-waist, furrowed dress and its accompanying corset—uncomfortable, taking too long to adjust, unsuitable for a working day down town which merges with briefest interval into a "date" uptown.

At the cost of convenience, most of us could adopt even the extreme variations of the new styles, but most of us certainly would not; therefore, this winter, we did not! It seems to us that there is a real difference here in the attitude of mind, and that the difference is one for the mind of the dressmaker to dwell upon.

REMEMBER, we women who are not rich or leisured, who, in one way or another, work for a living, constitute the feminine majority! After all, we buy most of the clothes. Mr. Bolitho truly points out that at present there is "an almost violent effort—resolutions, club feeling, and all the rest—to stop the fashion before it is led inevitably to what the unadorned working woman most feared."

He continues, however: "The Parisian Avenue parade, the stage, the natural leaders of the sex—that is, in 'woman's business'—have verily adopted the new fashion, by day as well as by night, and I conjecture that its physical complements, not only long hair and fuller forms, now made possible, will not be long in coming. But the working girl, to her despair, cannot follow it. Let us watch her for a few years desperately trying. Let us, as the contrary, watch her refusing to try!"

Such, anyhow, is the spectacle which we hope to behold, having faith in the good sense of the majority of our sex—and the majority, if you please, is literally a working majority. So far, the downtown countenance has done nobly. These girls have continued to wear last year's costumes or they have bought the many charming and sensible sports and daytime dresses with skirts but slightly longer, which clever New York shops have featured—or perhaps they have used the shears! Anyways, eyes are the witness that less have worn this winter, as during other recent winters!

IT SEEMS to us that already there are spring straws to show which way the wind of victory blows. Oh, yes, we read the other day that—according to certain fashion reporters—there is a "cut-out" back, at an advance showing in New York, displayed skirts longer than ever.

But in the same newspaper we noted advertisements of department stores depicting spring fashions not only for afternoon but for dance wear, with skirts only a trifle below the knee. We especially noted one shop's attractive "combination" frock, a pale yellow, when removed, turned the dress into a sleeveless dancing frock—and with a skirt that was little more than a waft of air.

Just as you can lead a horse to water but you cannot make him drink, so you can lead the "working woman" to the new fashions, but you cannot make her wear them. As we have said even the most conservative of the "working woman" would hardly accept a change when Mr. Bolitho that there is no difference between a woman's "will not" or "cannot." When a woman will, she will, and she will make her body try to make her! And if she is in the majority of her sex, may we not expect that—as usual in the end—the majority will rule?

A DISH A DAY

By Nancy Dorris

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

One colorful dish cheers up a whole meal, and since a dish of color is usually a dish of flavor, adds to its palatability. The use of the pungent yet sweet scarlet pimiento on our tables pleases the eye as well as the taste and elevates the spirit.

We borrow a bit of old Spain when we add the flaming sweet pepper to our dishes, although to-day the finest pimientos come from our own Southland. First used as a garnish for salads, canapes and sandwiches, the pimiento has grown in favor so that now it appears as a vegetable or in combination with other vegetables or foods.

Some of our most popular dishes featuring the pimiento are chicken a la King, baked corn souffle or custard, potato salad, pimiento and lettuce sandwiches, pimiento and olive sandwiches, sauces and omelets. The tender pepper seeds taken carefully from the core are perfect little cups for salads, or for stuffing. They may be sautéed quickly and served with the steak or chops. Very unusual are:

BAKED STUFFED PIMENTOES

One and one-half cups cooked spinach
One-half teaspoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
A few grains of nutmeg
One tablespoon lemon juice
One egg, well beaten
Six pimiento cups, drained
One-fourth cup buttered crumbs
Oven temperature, 400 degrees F.
Baking time, fifteen minutes
Servings, six

Freshly cooked spinach increases the pleasure of the pimientos. Mix the spinach lightly with the salt, pepper, nutmeg, lemon juice and beaten egg. Open the pimientos very carefully—their tender flesh tears easily—and fill with the spinach mixture. Place the filled pimientos in paper cups or well-greased ramekins or muffin tins; sprinkle the tops with the buttered crumbs. Set in the hot oven and bake until the crumbs are brown and the pimiento hot through.

The spinach, seasoned with salt, filled into the pimientos and topped with buttered crumbs and browned in the oven, is a simpler version of the recipe. With pork sausages, ham, tongue or chicken the pimientos are most cheerful and tasty. The pimiento cups are, of course, to be eaten. When a salad is desired the hostess may wish to serve:

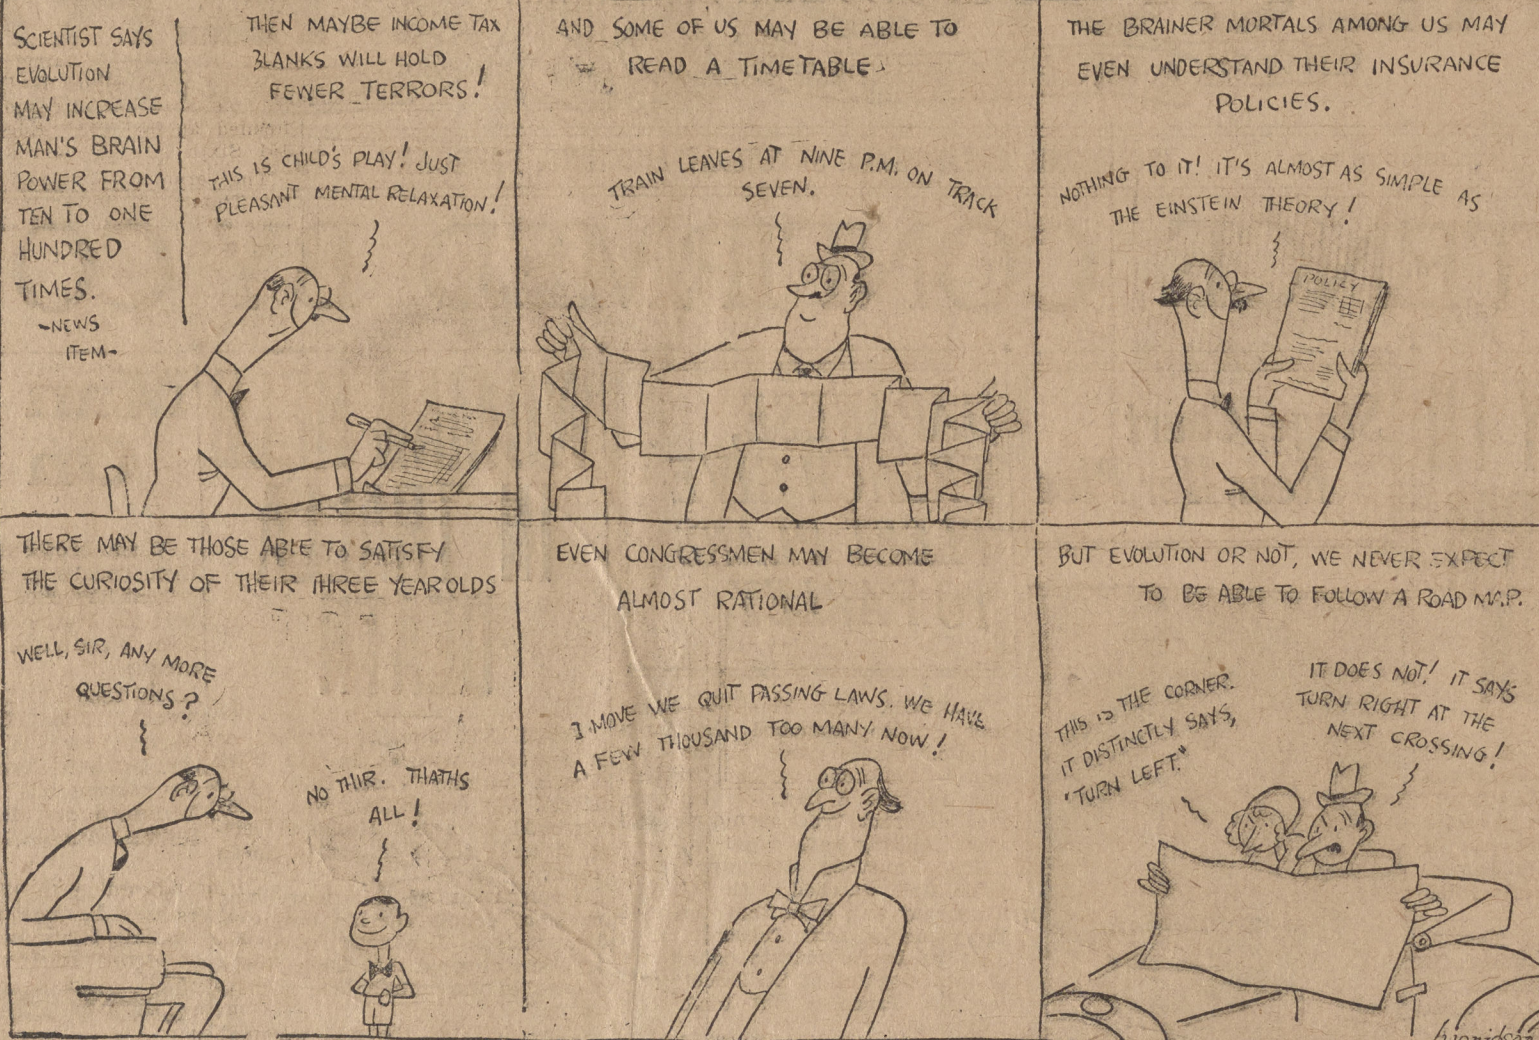

STUFFED PIMENTO SALAD

Two packages cream cheese
Two teaspoons finely minced chives
One teaspoon chopped parsley
One-half teaspoon paprika
One-eighth teaspoon salt
Four pimientos, drained
Crisp salad greens
French dressing or mayonnaise
Servings, six or seven

Rub the inside of a mixing bowl with a cut clove of garlic. In this bowl mix the cream cheese with the minced chives, chopped parsley, salt and paprika. Moisten with a little cream if the cheese does not blend nicely. Fill the cheese mixture carefully into the drained pimiento cups and chill until firm enough to cut—one to two hours. Slice and serve two or three slices on a bed of crisp greens or shredded lettuce, with French dressing or a spoon of mayonnaise.

Something to Look Forward To

Tales That Tables Tell

By Alma Zaiss

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

ONE thing that every homemaker has included in resolutions for the new year is the pledge to plan more decorative and more colorful tables. Of that we are certain. And why? Not necessarily because of the tales our tables have told in these columns throughout the past year or two—although their message has been very strong at times. But rather because designers, manufacturers, merchants, decorators, educators, too, have combined to make the need for beautiful tables a continued story to fascinate them. One must follow it through to the end.

A few years ago we were mere infants in the art of planning colorful tables. We had white cloths, cream cloths, white or cream china (with golden bands, plain white glassware. An occasional family went in for colored breakfast sets and patterned china for informal use, but in general color came to the table by way of the centerpiece and such trivial things as place cards, favors, or a decorative bonbon dish.

What a contrast is presented by today's tables, radiating rainbow hues that are at times almost dazzling again subtle, delicate and alluring. It is all very cheerful and inspiring, this wave of color which has swept over modern tables and every one accepts it in some measure; welcomes it as a means of making meals more interesting. But not all know how to use it to achieve variety.

One very flexible scheme for obtaining many different effects is shown by today's tables, which tell us that, through the use of a unique and colorful cloth of linen damask, we may have an ideal background for many color schemes.

The outer sections of the cloth are plain and of a pleasing ecru tone suggesting unbleached fabric, while the broad center panel is richly patterned with Spanish motifs in rose, mauve, green, and other delicate shades. Picture upon this cloth a handsome centerpiece of spring flowers in harmonizing tones, a cranial fluted china, banded in rose, and swirled-patterned goblets of sea-green glass. Again think of the same linen damask cloth and the same china, with goblets of deep amethyst glass, and instead of the sterling centerpiece shown in the picture, substitute an amethyst bowl filled with pink-bronze roses instead of a mixed bouquet. Truly the wise choice of one's table linen leads to a rich variety, for it is the foundation of every color scheme.

In buying linens for the new year, then, it is important to shop thoughtfully and to investigate each new offering. For particularly in the linen damask field, artists have been very busy creating original things. The new colors are much more versatile than those of old. Many designs combine several colors, as in the setting illustrated; others provide a colorful though somewhat neutral background which lends itself equally well to contrasting or harmonious accessories.

In buying linens for the new year, then, it is important to shop thoughtfully and to investigate each new offering. For particularly in the linen damask field, artists have been very busy creating original things. The new colors are much more versatile than those of old. Many designs combine several colors, as in the setting illustrated; others provide a colorful though somewhat neutral background which lends itself equally well to contrasting or harmonious accessories.

Assuming Responsibilities

MRS. AND MRS. JAMES were both tired out and therefore were delighted when a local holiday fell on a Monday. "We'll all go for a little vacation over the week end," said Mr. James. His wife gladly agreed; but suddenly her face fell and she said, "No, we can't. Junior hasn't a holiday. He has to go to school." "He won't mind staying home alone," Mr. James remonstrated.

When twelve-year-old Junior was consulted, he said he would gladly keep his room and refused all plans to send him to relatives or friends. "Just give me money for my meals and have Jim sleep here at night, if you please," he said.

So Mr. and Mrs. James went on their vacation, feeling that Junior was absolutely capable of taking care of himself. The night of their return they wired him that they would be home by 6 o'clock. When they arrived they were delighted to find the apartment in perfect order. "Welcome Home!" signs in conspicuous places, and greatest wonder of all, a hot supper awaiting them. This twelve-year-old had planned, marketed and cooked a dinner consisting of steak, canned vegetable, potatoes and baker's cake, with all the trimmings.

Junior was a "regular fellow," no silly by any means, a chap who could hold his own in any athletic contest. He was simply a shining example of what a child, boy or girl, can do when he is allowed freedom to develop and given responsibility—and when his heart is in the right place.

Junior could never have assumed such a responsibility had it been suddenly thrust upon him. From early childhood he had done things for himself and helped in the work of the household as much as he was capable of doing. As he grew older, he was often entrusted with marketing, learning through his mother's example and advice as well as his own mistakes. Cooking, too, he learned in the same way. Picnics and camping out also gave him opportunities to practice the culinary art.

How much pleasanter life was for this mother and father, with an independent, reliable son! And wasn't the boy himself happier and more capable than children who have not been allowed to assume responsibility? Won't he be grateful for this training when he grows up to be a skilful, self-reliant man? Our children are all much more capable than we realize. It is we who keep them dependent, by not giving them the chance to show what they can do!

Evening Hosiery

DELICATE powder tints and pastel tones are the hosiery colors for evening wear and formal afternoon. Pale pastel face powders for women weary of the fashion world, and hosiery introducing harmonizing shades is very attractive with the ultra feminine ankle-length dresses. Naturally these hues are exceedingly sheer, delicate in tint, and without lustre. Long skirts and matching slippers add to the charm of colored stockings.

Black and navy blue in a lightened tone are the two most fashionable suit colors, although one may wear very light beige, a plain rather than multi-colored tweed, even a rose red or a light bluish green, and be in the mode, these other colors shown in occasion suits.

The Farmer's Advice

By Alfalfa Smith

I MAY be wrong about it, but it seems to me that school teachers are sometimes jealous of each other at the expense of a pupil.

If the geography teacher gets after one of her pupils and he then begins to do good work, the history teacher may "get sore" and make an example of the young man, and the poor fellow doesn't know what it is all about.

School is a business, and there is a great deal to the business of getting children through school. They cannot just "slide along."

It is a good idea once in a while to let the teachers of your children know that you are alive.

A good many children have parents—believe it or not—although some teachers seem to think they are dealing with orphans.

Separate Coat Pointers

PARISIAN designers include the silk coat in the spring mode, but to be effective it must match in color the dress with which it is worn, although this can be of an entirely different fabric. For many coats are now full length. The perfect costume comprises a dress of slightly heavier silk than is ordinarily used for the separate frock, with a little lighter silk for the coat, faille or marocain, for instance.

When the coat is of cloth and is to be worn with various dresses, it must parallel the hemlines of these. Straight or even coat hemlines worn with trailing dress skirts are not fashionable, neither are they smart. And similarly the dress must match the color of the coat, unless a printed material is used for the former and this accent is supplied in the scarf or coat lining.

TELLING THE WORLD

SINKING THEM ON SIGHT

BEAUTIFUL, vivacious and smartly dressed stenographers of the American delegation to the naval convention have turned London upside down. It is hard for the envoys to keep their minds on their work. This is the progress of the naval parley so far:

(Cablegram)
HOOPER, Wash., D. C.—Our bevy of stenographers have knocked parley for a loop. Could have left Morrow, Adams and Robinson behind and convention would still be on.

STIMSON, London, England—Can send over dozen sweet looking Red Cross nurses if they would help.
HOOPER.

HOOPER, Wash., D. C.—Never mind nurses. If you will send over Clara Bow and Billie Dove as stenographers, think I can get Italy and France to quit building cruisers. Bow and Dove don't have to know shorthand as long as they wear short skirts.
STIMSON.

PRESIDENT DOUMERGUE, Paris, France—American delegation is beating us with woman power. Rush two dozen mannequins-of-war from Rue de la Paix if France is to get even break in naval tonnage.
TARDIEU.

TARDIEU, London, England—Sending you models by fast boat train to-day. France's naval power must be preserved. Will appoint Paul Poiret as Minister of Marine if necessary.
DOUMERGUE.

GRANDI, London, England—Got your cablegram, but can't make sense out of it. What do you mean by proposing we equip our battleships with 16-inch skirts?
MUSSOLINI.

MUSSOLINI, Rome—Had something else on my mind. Meant 16-inch guns in my cablegram.
GRANDI.

GRANDI, London, England—Keep your mind on your business or come home.
MUSSOLINI.

HOOPER, Wash., D. C.—Trying to look pleasant while my flapper stenographers steal the show. Send over Ziegfeld with twenty beauties and I think we can abolish war.
STIMSON.

Oh, Go to Bed

By Eliot Kays Stone

"AD, why is it dark at night?"
"Because there isn't any light."

"Why isn't there any light?"
"Because the sun isn't shining."

"Why isn't the sun shining?"
"Because the earth has turned around so that the sun is on the other side of us."

"Why does that make it dark?"
"Because the sun can't shine through the earth."

"Who turned the earth around?"
"Nobody. It turns on its axis once every day."

"How can it turn itself. Doesn't God turn it over?"
"Oh, go to bed!"

A Lawn Party Indoors

NOW is a good time to give a lawn party—indoors, of course. Take up the rugs and spread rugs of green moss around. In between have leaves (paper) scattered around the floor. Large growing plants like palms, oleanders, etc., should be part of the decorative scheme. If the room is large a couple of trees might be securely propped up against a garden hose. A rocky could be made of crushed paper to represent rocks, and these banked up against two or three pots of ferns. Other artificial creeping vines and small flower plants may be inserted.

One side of the room can easily be made into a wall by tacking crepe paper, in a brick or stone design, against the wall or on a framework. Vines may trail over the top and a narrow bed of blooming plants (paper) run along the bottom. A rose trellis is easily made with strips of white cardstock and paper roses attached as though growing there. A hedge of hollyhocks would be effective in front of the window. One or more small round flower beds may readily be arranged on the floor space.

Japanese lanterns strung across the room should constitute the overhead decorations, an inverted Japanese umbrella being used for the chandeliers. A bird bath can be constructed of a roll of heavy cardboard or an umbrella stand covered with crepe paper and wired with more birds wired to the brim of the bowl.

Birds and butterflies should be plentiful on the trees and flowers. These may be cut from crepe paper and stuffed with a bit of cotton then wired and perched in realistic positions. Have one or two bright colored garden umbrellas (large umbrella frames covered with strips of paper) will answer the purpose) and fasten them to small tables or place them with a group of camp stools underneath.

HOLT, REVIER IN FATHER AND SON

The drama of a scheming woman who came between a father and son. The father is terror-stricken in the belief that his son committed the crime and the son believes the father is guilty. They strive to protect each other. An amazing bit of evidence which is introduced in a clever manner clears them both and restores happiness. The characters interpret their roles with understanding and ability. It is difficult to single any one out for special mention since it is the uniform good work of the cast which distinguishes this production. The dialogue sequences reveal again that Jack Holt has a screen voice that radiates personality. He is great. A beautiful musical score supplies a suitable background for the dramatic action of the production. Edie C. Kenton directed.

UNEMPLOYED RIOT AT BERLIN

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—UP—New riots by unemployed were recorded today in Berlin and Hamburg as hungry men, some inflamed by Communist preaching, took the law into their own hands. The continued outbreaks of violence worried government authorities as well as police, since they resulted from an economic depression which finds millions of persons jobless throughout Germany. The echoes of last night's firing between police and Communists in Hamburg hardly had died down when new trouble was reported from that port city today. Unhindered at being driven from street barricades with heavy losses during the night, the Communists gathered this afternoon and stoned police who sought to disperse them. The officers wounded two demonstrators, including a 12-year old boy.

Berlin witnessed a destructive riot. Thirty young men, mostly 17 or 18 years old, attacked a Workers' Cooperative store in the Lichtenberg district of town after finding a "closed today" sign on a nearby charitable bureau where bread had been doled out of late. The youths rushed into the Cooperative demolished furniture and beat shop girls. Others gathered armfuls of sausages and bread and tramped on the food they were unable to carry away. Most of the rioters escaped, but police arrested three.

A cord of plain clothesmen moved in on a meeting of Communist leaders in an east restaurant here tonight and arrested the 76 persons present. The police had received a tip that Communist functionaries would gather at the restaurant and lay plans for demonstrations tomorrow. Many of those arrested were armed. The disturbances extended to Bremen, where a number of persons suffered injury and several Communists were arrested. The Communists engaged in a free-for-all with Nazis who were attempting to hold a meeting. The riots yesterday and today were the first widespread outbreaks since those of December, when unemployed staged demonstrations throughout the country in protest at restricted Christmas doles.

Maniac Hunted In 2 Attacks

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—UP—San Francisco bay region cities were being searched tonight for a maniac negro, thought to have criminally attacked two women, killed a man and committed several robberies in northern California. Latest victim of the fiend was Mrs. Stephen Lovejoy, 35, wife of a deputy constable. The negro entered the kitchen of her home, beat, bound and gagged her. She was found later near strangulation. The fiend was believed by police to be the same who killed a man and attacked his woman companion on a lonely road near San Leandro.

Africans Start Annual Fast

FEZ, Morocco, Jan. 31.—UP—The fast of Ramadan began today for the Mohammedans of Africa. For 28 days they will fast by day and feast and celebrate by night, according to annual tradition, the fast started as soon as the first thin edge of the new moon was sighted.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless remedy. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping." Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

During the interim of the divorce, the woman was married once, the man twice.

Princess Louise Will 'Rough It'

'LIGHT FINGERS' INGENIOUS THRILLER

An ingenious crook drama, entitled "Light Fingers," a Columbia all talking picture will thrill the audience at the Fox-California theater today and excellent direction enhance the picture tremendously. The delineation of each character is skillfully portrayed by a capable cast including Ian Keith in the title role, Dorothy Revier, Carroll Nye, Ralph Theodore, Tom Rickerts, Charles Gerrard and Pietro Soso.

The story deals with a notorious jewel thief, Light Fingers, who cleverly eludes detectives and frustrates all attempts to catch him re-handled. The character is a likeable one because he doesn't have any evil in his makeup. He goes wrong because he has no idea of good. To obtain the treasures of others by matching his wits against his gambling nature. When love comes into his life and he awakens to the difference between good and evil he takes the straight path and uses his intelligence to aid justice.

Dorothy Revier is cast as the girl who convinces Light Fingers that honesty is the best policy and will be rewarded with the love of a good woman. An unusually clever characterization is presented by Charles Gerrard in the role of "London Tower," a dapper English crook assistant to "Light Fingers." The production provides delightful entertainment and is suitable for the entire family. Joseph Henabery directed.

HIGH PUPILS ARGUE ON FINANCE

For almost two hours they argued—and still the argument raged. No, it wasn't a domestic debate. It was merely caused by the decision of the pupils of the Richmond Union high school to discuss finances. A common subject for discussion, but seldom does such a unique debate take place because of this topic.

It all started over the admission charge to high school games. Things were calm at first, and disinterested members of the organization began to slip down into their seats for a comfortable doze. However, several youthful orators made motions before other motions had been ratified, and amendment proceeded to pile on amendment. Then the ardent students of parliamentary law sprang into action, which further complicated proceedings. They even read to the assembly selections from their law books, but their less brilliant companions failed to comprehend. The argument gradually involved Principal B. X. Tucker, Theodore Madsen, dean of boys, and David Gray, law instructor.

The clouds were finally dispelled and the prosaic results of the long argument was that student body members paid 15 cents and non-members 25 cents to see the Richmond-Hayward cage contest yesterday afternoon. But the pupils were satisfied, for they had eluded almost two hours of uninteresting lessons, and instead, had gained a better idea of parliamentary discussion, much to the satisfaction of the instructors of the Richmond law, but greatly to the disappointment of the mathematics instructors who had prepared several nice brain-puzzling tests for their proteges.

CHAMBER PROGRESSING IN RAIL, WATER RATE BATTLE

Extensive progress has been made in giving Richmond its rights in regard to rail and water rates, according to W. W. Scott, who yesterday summarized the work of the traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce of which he is chairman.

According to Scott, many constructive results already have been achieved and the ground work has been laid for many more, which will develop during the current year.

Scott traced the success of the committee to a series of meetings held nearly a year ago in Richmond at which representatives of rail and water carriers, exporters, importers and large shippers of cargo were invited to air their views on what Richmond could best do to facilitate the movement of goods from the bay region to all parts of the world.

"We feel that these conferences resulted in a real contribution to our harbor and industrial program," said Scott. "One of the results directly traceable thereto was the signing up of the Nelson Steamship company to make Richmond a regular port of call. Since then we have added the Christensen-Hammond line."

"Our committee was represented by its members and others at the Portland hearing of the Pacific coast fourth section application for a consideration of adjustment rates to the northwest, to put Richmond on a parity with other bay cities.

"Another important move has been our series of conferences with the North Pacific Coast Freight Bureau for an adjustment between the carriers of the joint rail and water rates to the interior points of the northwest territory."

Repaid For Efforts

"While we have not accomplished all that we set out to do, we have gone a long way and feel that we have been amply repaid for our efforts in this and the other matters which have come before the committee."

Frank Chandler, a member of the committee declared that the adjustments which the traffic committee have secured and those which they still seek are vital to the welfare of Richmond.

"At the Portland Interstate Commerce Commission hearing, both rail and water carriers asked higher rates for Richmond than were proposed for San Francisco and Oakland," he said. "Any differential against Richmond would seriously handicap our industrial growth and port development, and intervention was necessary. Now the case for Richmond has been submitted and a favorable decision is anticipated."

Traffic Committee

Chandler summed up as follows the recent victories of the traffic committee:

"Transcontinental export and import rail rates have been applicable to Richmond; local switching zones have been extended; new track construction to the inner and outer harbor terminals has reduced switching charges and made both terminals easily accessible from Richmond industries; direct and frequent coastwise steamer service between Richmond and north Pacific coast ports has been established and an extensive survey of potential traffic undertaken, all within a few months since the traffic committee was organized."

"These important accomplishments encourage the belief that other pressing problems of rate equality, additional steamer service and increased port traffic will soon be likewise solved by the diligence of the traffic committee, backed by the unified support of the Chamber of Commerce and the community itself. Real cooperation by everyone interested in the growth and betterment of our city is the one essential to further progress."

Members of the committee in addition to Scott and Chandler are H. L. Gunnison, F. W. Windley, A. A. Moran, H. C. Udenberg, and F. B. Morehouse.

Little Bits Of China Revolt In Richmond

China, a Chinaman, and an attempted burglary of a Chinese restaurant at 534 Macdonald avenue mingled in a great conglomeration of a one sided war of china early yesterday morning.

The china was thrown by the Chinaman at a burglar, who was attempting to rob the Chinaman's Chinese restaurant.

The china throwing Chinaman, is Chong Eng, proprietor of the Chinese restaurant on Macdonald avenue.

Early in the morning, Chong Eng, was awakened from his dreams of poppy fields in his far away country by the sound of an interloper raiding the kitchen of his Chinese restaurant.

Chong Eng, being very fond of his sleep and his dreams of poppy fields in far off China, as well as his Chinese restaurant, climbed up on a chair and peering over the transom, saw the intruder in the act of burglarizing the establishment.

Becoming enraged at this invasion of his Chinese restaurant, Chong Eng, an excellent marksman, in spite of his nationality, let fly with a bombardment of the nearest thing to his hands—a stack of china plates.

The burglar was liberally bestowed with bits of china and Chinese imprecations, and as any self

STATE GUARDS AGAINST NEW RIOTING

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—UP—A representative of the Filipino Legion told the United Press tonight that one way of ending riots between Filipino and white aborigines is for the United States to grant the Philippine status in independence and then to exclude Filipinos from immigration.

"It should be borne in mind that the Filipinos were lured here by the Americans themselves, the United States being portrayed as the land of opportunity, equality and liberty," Gabriel Q. Arriano, president of the Philippine Civic League said.

And while Arriano was advocating independence for his homeland, California took elaborate precautions to prevent renewal of the riots, which in recent weeks have caused one dead and one bombing outrage.

Troops Call Denied

Members of the 143rd field artillery, California National Guard said that the regiment had been ordered to stand by, presumably for duty in event of a serious riot. This, however, was denied by officers of the regiment who said that troops would not be used unless a much more serious situation developed.

Nevertheless, enlisted men of the regiment claimed that they were to remain in constant touch with each battery headquarters until further notice.

An anxious phase of the California situation is the fact that a "national humiliation day" will be observed in Manila Sunday at which time the islands will mourn the death of a youthful Filipino who was killed during the riots at Watsonville.

New Riots Feared

The fear of California officials is that Filipinos here may hold a similar ceremony and that such action may bring about renewed quarreling and rioting.

Reports from Manila say that leaders are advocating independence in connection with the memorial services but that plans also are being issued for orderliness.

The four scenes of recent rioting, San Jose, Watsonville, Stockton and Exeter, were quiet tonight—very quiet. The dance halls where Filipinos go for amusement were watched and, for the most part, were dark. Filipino clubs, in the inland fruit and vegetable raising valleys, were frequented by Filipinos but were closely watched by police. There was little or no merry-making.

Labor leaders, contending that competition for jobs caused the riots, point out that this is the worst time of year for racial disturbances.

Work On Farms

Most of California's Filipino population, estimated at 50,000, work on farms. They were brought to California to work in the vegetable and fruit fields. Such labor is tedious and many white men dodge such tasks when work is plentiful.

Most of the Filipinos in California came here by degrees, first working in Hawaii and then traveling on to the United States. The islanders do much of the so-called "stoop labor" formerly preformed by Chinese and Japanese who are now excluded from immigration.

Working men now seek to exclude the Filipinos also and Arriano concurred with the whites in this respect, his full statement declaring:

"Lured Here"

"It should be borne in mind that the Filipinos were lured here by the Americans themselves, more especially by American steamship companies, as the land of opportunity, equality and liberty. If the Filipino laborers in California are really 'poor labor' and a social menace, let us have Congress solve the Filipino problem once and for all by enacting the Filipino exclusion act and at the same time granting Philippine independence."

"There is no doubt that the condition is loaded with injustice and unfairness for both Americans and Filipinos. But let Congress solve the question with calmness and prudence and avoid spiteful and destructive criticisms which would only serve to fan the flames of distrust and hatred between the parties concerned."

Girl Phase 'Excuse'

Filipinos come here alone and associate to some extent with white girls, as women do not leave their home islands. This, too, is the cause of some friction. It is thought that resentment because white girls were employed in a

Winter's Mantle

Watsonville Filipino club caused the riots there in which one Filipino was killed.

But all authorities agree that the girl phase of the riots probably was an excuse rather than a reason and that a shortage of work, with the lower paid Filipinos getting most of the jobs, is really what started the disturbance.

The next few weeks are the doubtful ones. As spring nears there will be more work—thus eliminating the competition for jobs between Filipinos and the white laborers.

FILIPINO DANCE HALLS CLOSED IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—UP—Filipino dance halls where white girls act as taxi dancers were closed here today after three Filipinos had been attacked on streets of Los Angeles.

Two of the islanders were beaten by eight whites Wednesday night and another was waylaid and beaten last night by three Americans, police disclosed. None of the victims was seriously hurt and no names were available.

As a result of the attacks Filipinos themselves asked for closing of the dance halls which cater to their trade and supply white dancing partners. One dance hall while his patronized chiefly by Mexicans, but which attracts some Filipinos, remained open.

LEWIS GIVEN SLASH IN ALIMONY

RENO, Nev., Jan. 31.—UP—It was understood here tonight that Nevada granted the motion of Sinclair Lewis, noted author, for a reduction in the alimony he pays to his first wife.

The hearing on the motion was held behind closed doors, but unofficial reports said that Lewis is to pay the first Mrs. Lewis $200 per month and make up the difference between that and the sum named in the original agreement at the end of the year.

Lewis contended that the original alimony, approximately $10,000 per year, was one fourth of his income and that his bank balance had shrunk to $10,000 because his time was wholly taken up in the writing of a new novel.

Mrs. Dorothy Lewis accompanied her husband here for the hearing. Lewis refused to discuss the case, saying he did not want his financial affairs aired in public.

HIGH QUINTETS IN WIN OVER HAYWARD

Richmond Union high school's varsity and lightweight quintets avenged their recent defeat by Hayward high school by taking the Hayward "Farmers" into camp yesterday.

The Richmond heavyweights came out after a hectic fourth quarter on the heavy end of a 14 to 10 score. The Richmond B's came on the floor yesterday with an entirely new and better brand of passwork, and conquered the Hayward B cagers 19 to 11.

Richmond seemed to decide yesterday that they had had enough losses for one season, and played a speedy offensive game over the Hayward boys. The game was fairly even in the first half, and the score was 7 to 7 at half time. Richmond then came back strong, and maintained a small lead during the entire last quarter in spite of a spirited last minute rally by the visitors.

The local B outfit showed a marked improvement yesterday over their showing at Berkeley last Tuesday. Their passwork entirely baffled the Hayward lightweights during the first half, with the result that the score board read 12 to 3 in favor of Richmond at half time. Hayward rallied during the last two quarters, but the Richmond defense remained intact until the last whistle.

The game with Hayward was arranged on the refusal of Piedmont high school to play the Richmond quintets as scheduled in the Alameda County Athletic League. The Piedmonters were afraid to jeopardize their league standing because of Richmond's expulsion from the league Wednesday and sent word to the Richmond Union high school authorities yesterday morning that they would be unable to visit the local high school. Hayward, also expelled from the Alameda County Athletic League because of vandalism, stepped in to the breach.

Both the Richmond Union high school and Hayward high authorities have decided that they will not allow their expulsion from the league to prevent them from competing in the present basketball season.

The Richmond and Hayward school teams will tangle Thursday night in the last of a series of three contests. In the first tournament with Hayward, the local varsity lost, but the Richmond's B were victorious. As a result of today's victories, the Richmond varsity are tied with the Haywardites, while the local B squad are victors of this unofficial three game series.

The B game will start at 7 o'clock in the Richmond Union high school gym and the varsity clash will follow at 8 o'clock. This will be the first night game to be played by the local high school cagers in the Richmond high gymnasium this season.

Berkeley Faces League Ouster In Local Thefts

That Berkeley high school is being investigated by officials of the Alameda County Athletic League as the result of a game with the Richmond Union high school last Friday was revealed by league officials yesterday.

The investigation followed a report of the theft of a Richmond Union high school basketball suit upper and a watch from one of the local players during the game at Berkeley.

It was indicated that the Berkeley high school will be dropped from the league.

Both Richmond and Hayward high schools have been suspended by league officials for alleged acts of vandalism.

Richmond high school was dropped after four boys had stolen four lights from Hayward high school during a game between the local and Hayward squad.

Hayward high school has been suspended on charges of vandalism in connection with its game with Centerville last week. Someone painted a huge "H" on the Centerville school water tank.

In commenting upon the action of the league yesterday, B. X. Tucker, principal of the local high school, told a student assembly that the decision was "just," although the local school is a "victim of circumstances."

The local school will not play any games in the league in basketball, baseball and track. Tucker said. However, games will be scheduled with various teams during the seasons—but they will not be league games.

SINGER NOTCH CLOSER TO CROWN

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(UP)—The able fists of A. Singer battered aside another obstacle that lay in the Bronx lightweight's road to the title tonight as Singer decisively defeated Stanislaus Loyaza of Chili in a thrilling ten round bout before nearly 20,000 excited fans.

Facing one of the most rugged opponents he was ever called upon to meet the game little New Yorker jabbed and slugged his way to a convincing victory and demonstrated that he is ready for a title bout whenever Sammie Mandell cares to try the issue.

Loyaza outboxed throughout the bout and knocked down for a count of nine as early as the third round fought back courageously and won the applause of the crowd at the finish.

Y. Cagers To Play Today In Californiad

The 80 and 90 pound basketball squads of the Richmond Y. M. C. A. will meet the Oakland Y. M. C. A. lightweights teams in Californiad competition this afternoon at the Oakland "Y" gymnasium.

The Richmond youngsters have been practicing for several weeks under the direction of George Flores and Billy Collins, and ought to show the Oaklanders plenty of competition in today's games. Whether the Richmond junior teams stay in the Californiad competition will be decided today, for the tournament is being played by elimination.

If the Richmond boys win today they will probably play for the easyby district championship.

The Californiad is being held throughout the state by all Y. M. C. A. groups, and competition is being held in almost a score of varied fields, including choral singing, oratory, debating, checkers, pingpong, handball, swimming, volleyball, wrestling, indoor baseball, horseshoes, tennis, gymnasiums, essay writing, track, drama and chess. The local Y. M. C. A. senior members, Y. M. D., H. Y. Pioneer Notchers and Friendly Indians will all take part in these events.

The 50 pound boys who will play in Oakland today are: Jack McKune, Wilbur Hosmer, Clarence Mackey, George Toyota, James Ro-barger, Willie Traverso, Alden Pratt, Wesley Rust, Ed Re, and Chris Muller.

The 80 pounders who will go to Oakland today are: Harold Smersfelt, Harold Johnson, Walter Mackey, Edwin Mason, Elvin Nicholson, Thomas Costello, Harold Armstrong, George Washburn, and Earl Edwards.

Denny Shute Leads Texas Golf Play

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 31.—(UP)—Denny Shute, the Columbus O., professional who won the $10,000 Los Angeles Open this year, and Al Espinosa, Chicago Spaniard, were well ahead of the field with low scores of 68 after the first round of play in the ninth annual Texas Open golf tournament here today.

Shute returned to the clubhouse first. Hardly had the thrills from his three below par score died away, when Espinosa came home with his tie. Shute carded a 35 and a 33, Espinosa a 36 and a 32.

Mike Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., and Tony Manero, New York, were close behind the two leaders with 70's. Johnny Golden, Patterson, N. J., and Ray Mangrum, Los Angeles, a Dallas youth who turned professional only a year ago, went around in 71.

Horton Smith, the 21-year old Jon'p Mo., professional, won an uphill battle on the first round to finish with a 72. He shot a poor 28 on the first nine but came home in 34. "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, winner of the Texas event two times, finished Smith. Bobby Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del., Tucker Bowles, attached, Hermann Barron Port, Chester N. Y., professional, Frank Walsh, Chicago, and George Al-bach, Waco, Tex., also shot 72's to finish the first day's play well up in the running.

Mrs. Jessup Wins Indoor Net Round

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass., Jan. 31.—(UP)—Mrs. John B. Jessup, of Wilmington, Del., national indoor tennis champion in 1924 and 1925, will seek to regain that title in the final round of the Women's National indoor singles tournament at Longwood covered courts here tomorrow.

Today, Mrs. Jessup, seeded number one player, defeated Miss Marjorie Blake of Lenox, holder of the 1929 championship, in a three-set match. The scores were 2-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Mrs. Jessup will be pitted with Miss Mianne Palfrey, youthful Brooklyn star, in the final round.

Miss Palfrey advanced to the finals by causing three upsets, which were entirely unexpected.

CARNERA WINS AS PURSES HELD UP

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Purses of Primo Carnera the Italian behemoth and Elvear Rioux, Canadian were ordered held up temporarily here tonight while an investigation was conducted into the one round knockout scored by Carnera over Rioux before 17,000 persons in the Chicago stadium.

Rioux was counted out after he had been on the floor five times during the 47 seconds of the first round. Frederick A. Gardner, a member of the commission said the purses would be held up until Tuesday when the commission meets.

There was a great argument at the ringside as to whether Rioux had taken a dive but there seemed little doubt that he had been hit when he bounced on the floor for the last time.

The first two times he went down he wasn't even hit and the next two he was hit on the jaw whether with a punch hard enough to knock him down is impossible to say. The final punch appeared to be hard enough to knock anyone out and Primo broke his glove with it. However the glove might have given away to the stretched the hamlike hands within it. But from all outward appearances Rioux was glad to be on the floor. Obviously he didn't relish any of Carnera's punches.

DEATH TAKES JOE CANTILLON

HICKMAN, Ky., Jan. 31.—(UP)—"Pongo Joe" Cantillon, another of baseball's grand old men, died at his home here today after fighting off death from a paralytic stroke for more than a year.

Hale despite his white hair and his 68 years, "Pongo Joe" kept up his interest in baseball to the end. When he suffered a stroke last week he was considering resumption of his last year's work as chief umpire of the American association.

Born at Janesville, Wis., in 1861, Cantillon entered professional baseball with the Janesville team in 1879 and remained in the game in one capacity or another for the rest of his life. After playing on the Pacific coast and with Washington, he went to Minneapolis where he gave the Millers a pennant in 1910, '11 and '12. He went to Little Rock, as a Southern Association manager in 1925, but had to retire next season because of ill health.

Hudkins Wins By Knockout

BOSTON, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska lightweight, knocked out Arthur Flynn of Lawrence in the third round of their scheduled ten round bout here tonight.

Liver, Gall Bladder and Stomach Trouble Relieved

2946 Morgan Ave.
Oakland, Cal.
Nov. 15, 1929
THE FONG WAN
HERB CO.
Dear Mr. Fong—
I am writing this letter to express my gratitude for the splendid results and benefits I have received from the use of the Chinese Herbs
prepared by you.

I had a complication of Liver, Gallbladder and Stomach trouble. With Successful
Herbalist
The region of the Liver was exceedingly sore and tender; so much so that even loose clothing became irritating and uncomfortable. My Stomach was also very sore to the touch and felt as if there were a lump the size of an egg in it. After meals, food which was very sour and burned the throat, was returned to the mouth.
This condition steadily became worse over a period of a year.
By good fortune I came into contact with a man whom you had treated successfully for an Ulcerated Stomach, and he strongly urged me to take your treatment. This I did.

Results were noticeable the very first week, and now, after six weeks, I am entirely free from the terrible stabbing pains and the soreness over my Liver. My digestion is good. The old feeling of lassitude has completely disappeared and I feel much brighter and more energetic than I have for years.
I am most happy to strongly recommend the herbs of the Fong
Wan Herb Co. as prepared by you.
Wishing you unbounded success and again thanking you for what you have done for me, I am Very cordially yours,
CYRIL MAW.

"It is his house," said the Duchess shortly, "and his wife."
"His house, yes," answered Leopold, "and I shall not find trouble him. But scarcely his wife, Madame; that Lutheran ceremony was nothing."
"I thank you, Sir," said the Duchess, again with her stiff cur-sey, "for your good usage. I also am a Lutheran, and you know, Sir, as I know, that that marriage was notably a marriage, before all the world; and I believe, the price you paid for the services of Prince Christian, which have, Sir, proved invaluable."
"Colonel Pons is here," she said,

'GENERAL CRACK'

Copyright 1928 by Dodd Mead & Co., Inc.
The Warner Bros. & Vitaphone production starring John Barrymore, is based on this novel.

SYNOPSIS
General Crack, as head of the imperial army of King Leopold has conquered the enemy and plans to marry the king's daughter. Leopold wishes to marry Princess Eleanora, daughter of state forced him to yield her in favor of Crack, who married her. Gabor, smarting at an insult inflicted by Crack, forges a letter from Eleanora to Leopold, protesting undying love.
Leopold, believing, sets out in disguise for Crack's estate. Gabor follows. The old Duchess, entrusted with the care of Eleanora, urges Leopold to leave at once.

CHAPTER XV—Continued
"The master of Ottenheim would scarcely give you that leave, Sir," replied the old woman, grimly. "I dare swear he knows not you are here; and if you insist upon staying," she added, with spirit, "I can assure Your Majesty that you play
the tyrant to very little purpose.
It is but a poor conquest to frighten those who are already conquered."
Leopold glanced at Eleanora, and said, softly:

"Do I frighten you, sweet? Do I frighten you?" And she shook her head and smiled at him, as the Duchess were not there. The old woman was shivering. She leaned heavily on her ebony stick with the silver apple on the top, which of late she had so frequently used.
"I cannot debate this calmly,"

"Do not rail," said Leopold; "no doubt you are sad and ill satisfied.
But as you say, we can take supper with you and begone. Will you have patience with me before Eleanora? May I not bribe you, in her presence, to wink at my manifest fault?"

"If you will go soon, I will be your bounden servant," said the Duchess, eagerly. "I will speak to your face and behind your back, Sir, if you will only begone—if you will not speak with her alone!"

"I am old," stammered the Duchess, "and you must allow me a certain freedom. I spoke thus openly to Prince Christian, because I have a great affection for the girl; and he respected what he loved."

"Leave it!" said Leopold, interrupting swiftly; "leave it. I know she is as I last left her. Do me the courtesy to speak no more about it."

"And do you, Sir, forbear as he forbore?" cried the Duchess. "With whatever intention and purpose you came here, I do entreat you to forbear!"

"You think me fond and facile," smiled Leopold. "Contain your alarm, Madame; there is nothing so odd and singular in my visit here. The world is full of sudden accidents, as you should know by now. I cannot yet go to speak with more formality," he added, haugh-tily.

"I can scarce speak at all!" sighed
the Duchess, trembling.
Eleanora entered the room lightly, servants with candles coming in behind her, so that she brought the sweetness and radiance of light with her.

"I have been mewed up here so long," smiled Eleanora, dimpling with mirth, "that I know little of the world's doings; and therefore you, Monseigneur, must entertain me with tales of what goes on abroad."

"What you?" said Leopold. "Will find no merit in battles and sieges, in the intrigues of politicians; and that is all I have to tell. It is to get away from those, Eleanora, that I have come to Ottenheim."

"What shall we talk of, then?"
asked Eleanora, her gaze still smilingly upon his face. "For here there is no news, save all the birds and many of the beasts have died, and everything is desolate and dull. The flowers, Sir, lasted long, but even they have gone now; and neither the sky nor the river is blue any longer."

"And that is all your news?"
breathed Leopold. "And mine does not come to as much as that! For I had not even noticed, as I rode, that all the lustre was gone from the landscape, and for your birds and beasts, Eleanora, I may easily get you others when the spring comes."

"He speaks," thought the Duchess, "as if he were going to make her his wife. I pray God it be no worse than that. She was in the greatest state of disorder at her own futility. When she heard the drums and trumpets sounding as usual from the garrison, calling the soldiers into the barracks for the night, she shivered with an even deeper fear. How useless this advance of the enemy when the enemy was already within the gates!"

county, that there was no charge against Miss Hibbs.

"She is merely a guest of the jail," Becker said, "so that she will be handy to identify any suspects we may round up."

The sheriff said that no immediate arrests are expected.

Considerable importance was attributed to the discovery of two purses near the scene of the murder, and to the mysterious disappearance of Tralla's overcoat and hat and Miss Hibbs' shoes from the automobile purported to have been used by the negro assailant.

Between the time that the slayer's car was first seen abandoned at Seventh and Pine streets, Oakland, and the time it was taken by police 24 hours later, the clothing and shoes disappeared.

Second Attack
Capt. A. B. Wallman of the Oakland police force advanced the possibility that the slayer of Tralla may have been the same negro who attacked and robbed Mrs. D. F. Loveland of Oakland Thursday.

Wallman declared the negroes are of the same description, differing only in color. Miss Hibbs described her attacker as a "light colored negro" while Mrs. Loveland said her assailant was very black. Sheriff Becker voiced the opinion that they are different men.

Tralla was beaten to death by a hammer after he had stopped to assist the murderer who said his car was stalled.

When Miss Hibbs attempted to assist her companion, the negro beat her severely and left her lying by the roadside, Miss Hibbs said.

She staggered to a ranchhouse a quarter of a mile away, where she obtained aid.

After looting a service station at Gilroy, he continued his flight in the stolen machine. State Traffic Officer Karl Lauritzen took up the chase at Salinas.

Youth Hanged For Slaying

BOONVILLE, Mo., Jan. 31.—UP—A wan smile crept over the boyish face of Lawrence Mabry, 19, his lips moved in prayer, and a few brief minutes later he had paid with his life for the murder of William Busch, Sedalia, Mo., law student.

The youth fell to his death at 9:17 a. m. through the trap of a crude gallows set in a musty building behind the county jail. Life was officially pronounced extinct at 9:30 a. m.

Hope of executive clemency, buoyed up the spirits of the condemned youth to the last. He insisted on his march to the gallows that he was guiltless of firing the fatal shot during a holdup February 4, 1928 at Sedalia, Mo.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 31.—UP—Spinal meningitis claimed another victim in Arizona today in the death of Max Webb, prominent real estate dealer, who passed away at Miami.

Protect Your Furniture

A $1.25 to Rid Your Home of Moths May Save You Hundreds of Dollars.
MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

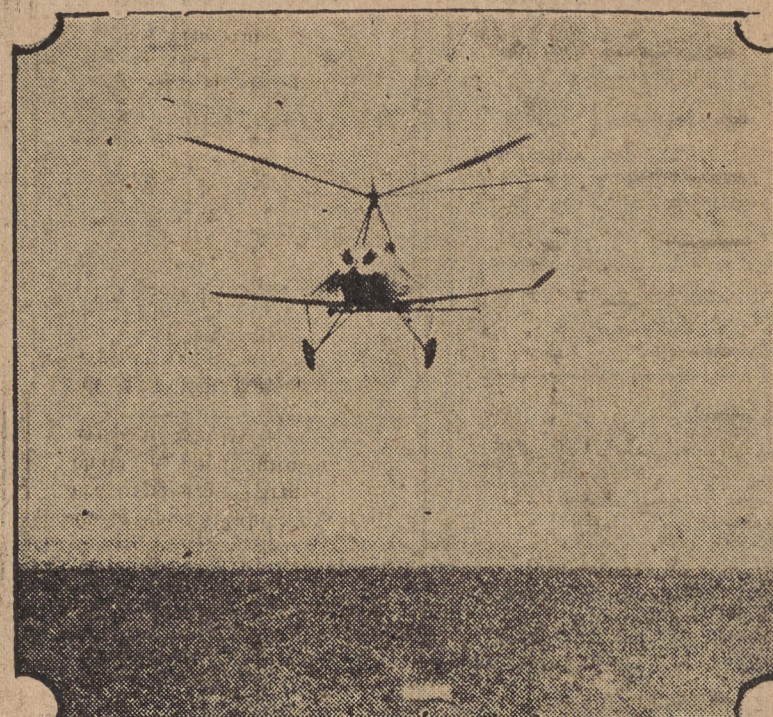

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

FRANCE, JAPAN GIVE FLEET PROGRAMS

low no transfers of tonnage in the three larger-sized classes, 1, 2 and 3.

The Americans and British were believed to favor the Japanese plan, at least in principle, whereas the Italians thought a total tonnage should be fixed for each fleet before bothering about different classes of ships.

The French issued a memorandum to the other delegations tonight proposing to divide ships into the following classes:

- French Plan
1. Ships over 10,000 tons or with guns greater than eight inches.
 2. Light surface vessels with guns greater than six inches.
 3. Light surface craft with guns not exceeding six inches.
 4. Submarines.
 5. Aircraft carriers.
 6. Miscellaneous vessels such as mine layers and training ships.

The French would permit a transfer of tonnage from any class to any other on due notice. That is, a nation desiring to switch tonnage must give a year's notice to the other four powers, must within a month after starting new construction notify them of the displacement and type of vessels to be switched, and later must publish particulars as to armaments of the vessels affected.

Holiday Today

The memorandum left blanks for the other delegations to fill in, thus giving them a chance to say how much of a total navy they need and how many tons of each type of ships they want according to the French classification.

The memorandum closed with a request that the powers submit to the conference secretary written observations in connection with the French plan, these to be distributed before Tuesday.

Saturday will be a naval holiday in the sense that little or no business will be done. Prime Minister MacDonald will take the American delegates on a tour of the historic Buckingham section after a lunch at Chequers.
